when those units are needed to comply with regulations. All the carried over courses shall be cleared within the allowable maximum period of registration; otherwise the student is discontinued from studies. The maximum period of registration is as specified under the specific programmes.

METHODS OF EVALUATION

a. ASSESSMENT

Assessment is an integral part of the learning process and must support and complement the learning strategies in order to achieve the required outcomes. Assessment in particular, must reflect the required progression and be sensitive to the range of key skills developed

a. Principles of Assessment

- i. Assessment will reflect aims and objectives of the overall scheme and learning outcomes of the module.
- ii. Assessment will be designed to assist students' learning, particularly, their development as self-directed learners and the acquisition of key skills.
- iii. Assessment will be varied to facilitate motivation and recognition of the need to adopt approaches which enable students to demonstrate and fulfill learning objectives.
- iv. Assessment will reflect progression through studying year, with increasingly more complex methods being associated with higher order skills.

b. Assessment Methods

The following assessment methods will be used:

i. Assignments

The object of assignments is to reinforce the learning process by involving the students in finding solution to a given question or problem which require decision- making. They include tasks given to students apart from written tests and examinations or projects, so as to enhance self- development. Individual or group assignments will be in form of written work and/or practical exercises. For each module appropriate assessment methods and instruments will be indicated. Facilitators will administer not less than two assignments for a given module in a semester.

ii. Competence Tests

The intention of competence tests is to measure the practical capability of learners through actual doing of a particular task or skill. This will be conducted in actual or simulated environment.

iii. Class Room Knowledge Tests

The intention of classroom tests is to measure theoretical and practical performance of students through evaluation of written work and actual doing respectively. There will be a minimum of two written classroom tests in each semester under supervision of qualified tutor (s). Duration of each test will be not less than two (2) hours.

iv. End of Module Examination

This examination shall be conducted for duration of three (3) hours under supervision of qualified tutor (s).

c. Management of Assessment

The mode of conduct and administration of assessment shall be that approved by NACTE.

d. Students Progression and Disposal

- i. The semester shall be the basic academic audit unit. All modules offered during the semester shall be assessed within that semester, at the end of each module external examiners or moderators shall be invited at the end of the semester. A student shall be allowed to proceed to the next semester if he/she passes end of module examinations in all modules prescribed in a semester.
- ii. For every module there shall be at least two continuous assessment (CA) tests and regular assessment of competencies which shall constitute 60% of summative assessment. The end of module examination shall constitute another 40% of the summative assessment.

MODULE CODING (NTA 4)

The system of coding has adopted a combination of letters and numbers, which have a specific meaning. For example, the following modules offered in the first semester by the department of Pharmaceutical Sciences may be coded respectively as PST 04101 where:

a. PST 04101: refers to Dispensing module

PS Represents the first two letters of the department “Pharmaceutical Sciences”.

T Represent the qualification at the respective level “Technician”.

04 Represents the respective NTA Level.

1 Indicates the semester in which the module is taught.

01 Represents the serial number to which a particular module is assigned in the department (in this case 1st Module).

An award shall be given to a student who satisfies the following conditions:

- i. She/he must have successfully completed all modules for which the award is to be made, and
- ii. She/he has achieved the minimum cumulative Grade Point Average (GPA) equivalent to pass.

COMPUTATION OF CUMULATIVE GPA

A cumulative grade point average (Cum GPA) for each candidate shall be computed by dividing the total number of grade points earned for all modules by the total number for the award examined.

$$\text{I.e. Cumulative GPA} = \frac{\text{SUM OF } P \times N}{\text{SUM OF } N}$$

Where P represents a grade, point assigned to a letter grade scored by the students in a module and N represents the number of Credits associated with the module.

The Grade Point Average (GPA) shall be computed and truncated so that it won't provide a range of decimal point.
